

THE BRISTOL COURIER

BRISTOL, PA., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 11, 1938

DAILY WEATHER REPORT

Fair and warmer tonight. Saturday cloudy with mild temperature. Sunday rain and colder.

Price: 2c a Copy; 6c a Week

MIDDLETON TOWNSHIP LAD OF 13 IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION FROM GUNSHOT
WOUNDS; RE-ENACTED A RADIO PROGRAMRichard Smith, of Near Woodbourne, Lies Gravely Ill in Frankford Hospital

TWO LADS HAD GUNS

Boy of 16 in $500 Bail On
Charge of Aggravated
Assault and Battery

A Middletown Township lad of 13 years lies in Frankford Hospital in serious condition today as the result of gun-shot wound sustained when he and a companion of 16 years re-enacted a radio program.

The condition of the lad, Richard Smith, 13, of near Woodbourne, Middletown Township, according to hospital authorities, is grave. The outlook remained unchanged throughout the night and this morning, it is stated.

Released under $500 bail on a charge of aggravated assault and battery is Saverio Cusato, 16, son of Mrs. Yolando Cusato, who resides near the Smith home. The Smith boy was shot through the abdomen, while the two re-enacted a radio program Wednesday evening in an outbuilding on the Cusato place. The injured one, aided by Cusato, was able to walk to the Cusato home after the incident, and was taken by a neighbor to Frankford Hospital.

Hearing for the Cusato boy took place at one a. m. yesterday, before Justice of the Peace Daniel Krouse, after arrest had been made by Corporal R. D. Evans, of Oxford Valley barracks of Pennsylvania Motor Police.

Smith is a student at Langhorne grammar school, and Cusato attends Langhorne-Middletown high school. The boys are neighbors, and on Wednesday evening they listened to a radio program in which a story of the underworld was featured. Immediately at the conclusion of the program the two decided to re-enact one of the scenes, each using their .22 calibre rifles which they believed to be unloaded. Shortly, aiming at each other, a shot rang out, according to the boys, and Smith fell wounded. The two lads were alone in an out-building at Cusato's home, and they hurried to the house for aid.

Many Institutions Benefited
By Garments During Year

Distribution of garments collected by the Torresdale-Andalusia Branch of the Needlework Guild of America took place yesterday. Several private baskets were made up for the needy of those towns as well as adjacent towns. The private cases received shoes, stockings, nightgowns, underwear, sweaters, and if necessary, baby clothing. Some of the garments were distributed to institutions and hospitals, and other charitable organizations. During last year the institutions benefiting from the Guild were: Eastern Star, Broad Street Hospital, Home for Incurables, Home for Aged and Infirm, Evangelical Home for the Aged, Kensington Neighborhood House, Northeastern Hospital, Baptist Home, Visiting Nurse Society, Episcopal Hospital, Old Ladies' Home, Christ Home, The Clinic of St. des Malades, St. Edmund Home for Crippled Children, Frazier Home for Girls, Presbyterian Hospital, Salvation Army, Phillips Home for Infants, Artman Home, Lutheran Bureau (Children), Lutheran Settlement House, Babies' Hospital, St. Michael and All Angels, Penn's Home, Fifth Street Community, Frankford Hospital, Philadelphia General, Sacred Heart for Cancer, Home for the Indigent, and the Red Cross. Distributed among all these organizations were 3,462 garments. Baby baskets were also distributed to private families in need and also to institutions.

At a recent directors' meeting, the new officers for the year were elected. They are: President, Miss Lidie P. Paxson; vice-presidents, Mrs. David Gallagher, Mrs. William Keaton, Mrs. Edwin Lathrop; secretary, Mrs. Edward Bishop; assistant secretary, Mrs. Eugene Bachman; treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Larson.

The juniors also elected new officers, who are: President, Miss Rosalda Kirk; vice-presidents, Miss Zinada Hausman, Miss Virginia Phillips, Miss Ethel Brown, Miss Hazel Andrews; secretary, Miss Rebecca Phillips; assistant secretary, Miss Betty Ann Rowland; treasurer, Miss Emilie Lennig.

Plan for Masquerade Party
And for X'mas Activities

TORRESDALE MANOR, Nov. 11—Final plans for a masquerade party which Torresdale Manor Improvement Association has arranged for tomorrow evening, were made at a meeting at the home of Harry Peterson, last evening. The party will take place in the home of Harry Peterson, last evening. The party will take place in the home of Harry Peterson, last evening.

A committee was appointed to arrange for Christmas activities, this being composed of: William Beecroft, Raymond Hill and Charles Wenner.

TIDES AT BRISTOL

Table lamp, sandwich toaster, garbage can, candlewick spread, baking dishes, hosiery, etc., will be given as prizes at the Catholic Daughters of America card party in the K. of C. home, tomorrow evening. Playing will start at 8:30, under direction of Miss Katherine Dugan, chairman.

High water 4:40 a. m. 5:15 p. m.
Low water 11:58 a. m.To Establish Funeral Home
At Cornwells Heights

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 11—A funeral home is to be established here on Tuesday, November 15th, by Harold H. Haefner, Hulmeville.

The brick building located at Bristol Pike and Simon's Avenue, formerly occupied by Cornwell's State Bank, has been completely renovated, and improved for the purpose.

Mr. Haefner, a graduate of Eckels College of Embalming, Philadelphia, has for the past four years been affiliated with a West Philadelphia undertaking establishment.

WRITES OF HOLDING FAST
TO DEMOCRACY'S IDEALSThomas Collier, Jr., Submits Essay in Observance of
Nat'l Education Week

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT

This is the fifth of a group of essays written by students of the Bristol high school by way of observing "National Education Week." The essay today is entitled "Holding Fast to Our Ideals of Democracy."

By Thomas Collier, Jr., 12A
"Freedom," along with "Peace" and "Heaven," is to me one of the most beautiful words that has ever been spoken.

During the period of rebirth in Europe, a new sense of freedom sprang up, and new ideals were formed. One of the leaders of this movement was the youthful English humanist, Sir Thomas More. In his masterpiece, "Utopia," which he used to criticize the English government, he mentions many things which should exist in a perfect land. He states that in his Utopia wars would be abolished, rulers would rule for the good of the people, and, above all, there would be a complete freedom of assembly, speech, and religion.

We, of course, understand that to have perfect land would be to live in Paradise, and to have a Heaven on earth is an impossibility. We can, however, take strides to make our life on earth resemble a Utopia as nearly as possible.

Four hundred calendars have been discarded since More completed his great work, yet, now in 1938, we still have nations which have made no more of an attempt to have a near-perfect and the pre-renaissance countries at which his satire was directed. There are nations today which are being ruled by dictators, who absolutely control the people. They dictate what to do, how to worship, and even go so far as to control the presses and educational systems.

In the United States, one finds a different situation. Throughout the entire history of the growth of our country, we find stories of men seeking freedom and equality for themselves and their descendants, and striving to change a land of scenic beauty and natural riches into a golden nation. George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Patrick Henry, Susan B. Anthony, and Booker T. Washington, only to mention a few, will always be remembered for their leadership in making the United States the great country it is.

In America, although its system of government is by no means perfect, one finds a land in which freedom is offered and guaranteed by its Constitution. One of the greatest assets of this, in my mind, is the fact that initiative is developed. This can be shown in the lives of many great Americans. Edison, Ford, Rockefeller, and others, all rose from the poorer class, because sensing their opportunities in a land which offered equal rights and knowing that what they personally gained would not be taken from them, they reached the heights at which they will be remembered. There are very few countries that have men such as these of whom to boast.

There are also very few countries in which the people have such a liberal say in the running of the governmental machine. Rich or poor, man or woman, no matter what race or creed, all have an equal vote in electing the officials they would like and thus, indirectly, passing the laws which they see fit.

Liberty is something of which we should be proud. Our forefathers fought for it, and so should we fight for it should ever the time and situation arise.

Let us hold fast to the ideals embodied in those documents, "The Declaration of Independence," and "The Constitution," and pursue our life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness in these United States.

A CARD PARTY

Table lamp, sandwich toaster, garbage can, candlewick spread, baking dishes, hosiery, etc., will be given as prizes at the Catholic Daughters of America card party in the K. of C. home, tomorrow evening. Playing will start at 8:30, under direction of Miss Katherine Dugan, chairman.

Spend 25c and get dollars in return.

Try The Courier classified way.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

John Albright, 30, of Parkland, who is alleged to have broken his wife's nose on one occasion and said to have choked her in her sleep another time, was sentenced to the Bucks County Prison for a period of not less than six months nor more than one year.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge Calvin S. Boyer. The Court told the defendant that one warning and a previous arrest in Philadelphia was not sufficient to impress upon him that he could not beat his wife, so that he should expect no leniency.

Mrs. Mary Albright, wife of the defendant, who had him arrested, testified that her husband broke her nose on October 4 during an argument while he was drunk. She told the Court that her husband had threatened her and her three children on numerous occasions and that on one occasion, while she was asleep, her husband came home and choked her to such an extent that her throat and neck were sore for a week.

Albright, apparently unconcerned, told Judge Boyer during the hearing that he was not drunk when he broke his wife's nose, that he "just hit her during an argument."

Reversing a decision reached a month ago, Sellersville Borough Council decided to permit no more hunting in the borough limits this season. A few persons said to have been hunting too close to buildings, said R. F. Stackel, president of Council, spoiled things for all the rest. He advised that an immediate vote on the matter be taken, and Council agreed unanimously in favor of closing the borough to hunters.

This action was originally asked by Burgess Jacob A. Kooper, who pointed out that there were too many protests from property owners this year.

Chief of Police Frank Hallman brought an envelope of pellets from a gun he had been discharged in the south part of the borough. They were taken from a screen door on Fairview Avenue by Herman Pade, who stated that he narrowly escaped being shot having closed the door only a few minutes before the shot was fired.

FILE 18 INVENTORIES
WITH REGISTER OF WILLSEstate of Mrs. Hannah L. Kessler, Doylestown, Appraised
At $8,020.24

SOME OTHER ESTATES

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 11—Eighteen inventories, one of which appraises the estate of a Doylestown woman, have been filed in the office of Register of Wills Mahlon H. Rickert.

The estate of Mrs. Hannah L. Kessler, who died tragically after being struck by a car in Doylestown on Labor Day, was appraised at $8,020.24, according to an inventory filed recently.

So far this year, beginning January 1938, there have been no names beginning with the letters O, Q, U, X or Z filed in the Inventory's Register. Only one beginning with I and two with Mc have been filed this year.

Inventories were filed as follows:

Estate of Bennett Slack, Buckingham township, $1,000. George W. Doan, Middletown township, $8,719.63.
Estate of Ida M. Doan, Middletown township, $16,176. Estate of Clinton
Fox, Doylestown township, $6,050.

Estate of Walter C. Gallagher, Yardley, $559.73. Estate of William H. Gabel, Bedminster township, $15,921.72.

Estate of Richard P. Grace, Bristol, $3,652.92. Estate of Salome H. Kulp, Hilltown township, $542.28.

Estate of Ida M. Linsenbigler, Milford township, $228.75. Estate of Clarissa Patterson, Milford township, $5,766.63. Estate of Sarah A. Rook, Newtown township, $10,006.33.

Estate of John C. Rafferty, Bristol, $1,535.44. Estate of Charles H. Rapp, Richlandtown, $3,621.24. Estate of Mabel W. Tomlinson, Upper Southamton township, $2,575.

Estate of Addie C. Vanartsdal, Newtown, $17,558.01. Estate of Joseph P. Wildman, Buckingham township, $500. Estate of James Willard Wilson, Bristol, $3495.88.

TREVOSE, Nov. 11—The Trevoise Building & Loan Association, which recently announced insurance of shareholders accounts by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, Washington, D. C. will start its 25th year on November 17th, at the same address, Street and Brownsville Roads, but in new and larger quarters, which will be devoted exclusively to the use of the association.

The Trevoise Association, which paid out over $60,000.00 in maturities and also showed a substantial gain in shares for the year just closed, will issue its 49th series on November 17th, and is the only association in Bucks County to have its accounts Federally insured also from the latest available statistics is one of only 64 out of 1,884 active state chartered associations in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to offer this protection.

A CARD PARTY

Table lamp, sandwich toaster, garbage can, candlewick spread, baking dishes, hosiery, etc., will be given as prizes at the Catholic Daughters of America card party in the K. of C. home, tomorrow evening. Playing will start at 8:30, under direction of Miss Katherine Dugan, chairman.

Spend 25c and get dollars in return.

Try The Courier classified way.

"Landreth Day" Returns
Show $171.75 Profit

The committee which sponsored "Landreth Day" for the Landreth ball team in August, today made public a statement of the results of that community movement. "Landreth Day" originated among followers of the Landreth team who became aware that David Landreth, manager, was incurring quite a financial deficit in his efforts to give Bristol a ball park and a team. In appreciation of the efforts of Manager Landreth it was decided to run a benefit game and to present the receipts of the day to Landreth.

The game was arranged and according to the statement the receipts totaled $236.75, while the expenses amounted to $65. This left a net balance of $171.75.

The groups joining in the affair included Mill Street Business Men's Association, Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, Bristol Lodge of Elks, Bucks Lodge No. 1169, Loyal Order of Moose, Bristol Exchange and Bristol Rotary clubs.

TULLYTOWN PUPILS
PROMPT IN ATTENDANCEList Is Given of Those Who
Were Neither Late or Tardy
During October

IN GRAMMAR SCHOOL

TULLYTOWN, Nov. 11—The following pupils of the grammar school have not been late nor absent during the month of October:

Senior room—Mrs. Frank Kirby, principal—8th grade, Betty Bachofen, Christine Johnson, Viola Schaffer, Gertrude Termyns, Richard Anderson, George Cutchineal, William Hubbs, Albert Lovett, Joseph Napoli, Mickey Piroli, William Tyrrell, 7th grade: Frances Monti, Carmella Passante, Anna Mac Stake, Robert Potts, Richard Davis, Lester Heller, Eugene Morgan, Laurence Morgan, John Silvi.

Junior room—Miss Dora Thompson, teacher, 6th grade: Laura Bachofen, Jeanette Beets, Patricia Clay, Betty Lovett, Helen Lusciano, Margaret Markey, Marie Napoli, Josephine Passante, Elwood Burton, Joseph Cutchineal, John DiCicco, Joseph Lovett, Russell Lovett; Joseph Mazzochi, Earl Pope, Norman White, William Zuchero, 6th grade: Mary Carman, Doris Hirst, Mary Ann Morgan, Shirley Wright, Harry Esterline, James Gillard, Joseph Moffo, Louis Napoli, Edwin Termyns.

Intermediate room: Miss S. Elsie Ettinger, teacher, 3rd and 4th grades: Louise Bachofen, Yolanda Doto, Angelina Everk, Dorothy Monti, Anna Passante, Dennis Cavin, Reynold Clay, Anthony Everk, Bobby Helble, Archie Heller, Billy McSherry, Clara Cutchineal, Marjorie Swangler, Thomas Baker, William Garnet, Thomas Davasak, Robert Hirst, Bennie Mazzochi, Michael Pezza, Eugene Swangler, Earl Tremble, Vincent Luciano and Jackie Miller.

Primary room, Mrs. Chester H. Bloomfield, teacher, 2d grade: Louise Doan, Gloria Sines, Raymond Bodjuch, Richard Morgan, Ronald Morgan, Stanford Roberts, Eugene Termyns, 1st grade: Joan McSherry, Irma Mazzochi, Patricia Slager, Bobby Baker, Pierson Burton, Carman Mancini, Frank Martino, John Poane, Billy Trimble.

HAVE BABY GIRL

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Moss, 236 Garfield street, this morning, in the Wagner private hospital. Mrs. Moss will be remembered as the former Elizabeth Ellis.

Continued on Page Four

PEARL BUCK SAYS
"I DON'T WAIT FOR MOODS"Winner of Nobel Prize Says
"Your Mind Has To Get Down to Work"

BROADCASTS THANKS

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—(INS)—To become a Nobel prize winner in the world of literature you do not "wait for moods," Pearl S. Buck explained today, a moment after she had broadcast her appreciation of the honor by short-wave to Stockholm, Sweden.

"I don't wait for moods," said this woman, who wrote her first novel in the attic room of a Chinese missionary in Nanking. "You get nothing if you do that. Your mind has to get down to work."

Modestly, Miss Buck implied she was destined to become the third American writer ever awarded the Nobel prize for literature.

"I don't know Theodore Dreiser and he doesn't know me," Miss Buck said. "But to my mind he is the outstanding author of our day."

The author of "The Good Earth," which had 20 printings and was translated into six languages and Braille, said she hoped she had been awarded the Nobel prize for "all my work."

Continued on Page Four

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1938, by The Baltimore Sun)

The Word Smells

Washington, Nov. 10.

NOT THE LEAST significant result of Tuesday's elections is the completeness with which the returns appear to express the views of the voters on the subject of "liberalism" and "liberalism" as they have been portrayed since the birth of the New Deal.

IT was not a defeat for true liberals or real liberalism, but it was a smashing rebuff all along the line to the pseudo-liberal and the fake liberalism with which we have been drenched for the last six years. At least for a while the wind has been taken out of the professional purveyors of these terms. The country seems to have cleared its head and regained its perspective. Ever

The Bristol Courier

Published Every Evening (Except Sunday) at Beaver and Garden Sts., Bristol, Pa., Bell Phone 346. Only Daily Paper in Lower Bucks County.

BRISTOL PRINTING COMPANY
Owner and Publisher

Incorporated May 27, 1910
S Merrill D. Corson ... Managing Editor
Ellis E. Ratcliffe ... Secretary

Subscription Price per Year, in advance, $2.00; Six Months, $1.00; Three Months, 75c.

The Courier is delivered by carrier in Bristol, Edgely, Tunkhannock, Brooten, Croydon, Andalusia, West Bristol, Hulmeville, Bath, Addition, Newville and Torredale Manor for six cents a week.

JOB PRINTING

The Courier has the most complete and reliable printing facilities in Bucks County. Work of any description promptly and satisfactorily done.

Entered as Second Class Mail matter at the Post Office at Bristol, Pa.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE has the exclusive rights to use for republication in any form all news dispached credit to it. In this paper, it is also exclusively entitled to use for republication all the local or undated news published herein."

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1938

NOT THE LAST SHOT

Twenty years ago the guns ceased to thunder on the Western Front. This, a hopeful world was told, was the Last Shot. And many believed.

Two decades later we know all too well that it was not the Last Shot. On the twentieth anniversary of the Armistice, guns thunder in the Far East and in Spain, not far from that Western Front where the guns were stillled on November 11, 1918.

There is sure to be plenty of moralizing and plenty of blame-allotting on this anniversary. The moralizers' favorite scapegoats are the statesmen who framed the treaty of Versailles. They are blamed for the rise of the various "isms" and ideologies which have cursed the world of recent years.

Yet among those who most bitterly blame the Versailles conference for not making the world safe for democracy are many who would consign democracy to the scrap heap in favor of one or the other of the "isms" or ideologies. And believers in democracy, who join in denouncing the peacemakers of 1919, seem to forget that the processes of democracy played a large part in thwarting a real peace.

To illustrate: Woodrow Wilson, author of the famous phrase, thought that he could make the world safe for democracy by his League of Nations. But the American democracy rejected his plan and refused to join the league of its own President's making. So the league began life disowned by the nation which gave it to the world.

And so it was with the representatives at Versailles of the other democratic powers. Clemenceau had to think not of peace as an abstract ideal, but of a peace treaty which would satisfy an apprehensive French democracy, mindful of two German invasions in four decades. Lloyd George had to think not of the good of the whole world, but of what the voters of the British democracy would deem good. And so it went.

But it does not necessarily follow that Versailles proved democracy incapable of evolving just international agreements. If we think the treaty of Versailles a bad treaty let us pause to consider how much worse a treaty would have been evolved by three dictators sitting where Wilson, Clemenceau and Lloyd George sat.

NOT A HIDDEN LIGHT

Without publicity, whether by word of mouth or the press or the radio or any other of the many means which have demonstrated their effectiveness in lining up the cash customers at the boxoffice window, many of the heroes of the amusement world would have to do without Beverly Hills estates, all-year-round swimming pools, suites on luxury liners and other concomitants of rich living. Having chosen to step out of privacy and to live in the public eye, they can not consistently object to the stares of the world.

It was in recognition of this fact that the Los Angeles judge instructed a jury that "there can be no privacy in that which is already public" and the jury duly returned a verdict of guilty against the dancer who assaulted two candid camera fans who "shot" her stage performance.

The honeymoon is over when they quit calling the same day of each month an anniversary.

CROYDON YOUNG PEOPLE PLAN EVENING SERVICE

To Initiate New Feature At Croydon Methodist Episcopal Church

SUBURBAN CHURCHES

Croydon M. E. Church

Sunday, November 13th, at Wilkinson Memorial Methodist Church, State Road and Church street, Croydon: 9:45, Sunday School, classes for all ages; 11, morning worship; 7:45, evening worship, preaching morning and evening by the pastor, the Rev. John W. Bartram; 6:45 p. m., young people, this Sunday, the young people are initiating a new feature in their service. To participate each is to take a Bible. Also there will be a song service and a topic by one of the group.

Andalusia Episcopal Church

Church of the Redeemer, Andalusia, the Rev. W. W. Williams, rector; Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity: 8 a. m., Holy Communion; 10 a. m., Church School; 11, morning prayer and sermon; eight, evening prayer and sermon.

7:45 p. m., Monday, rehearsal, comedy, "Ye Village Skewl of Long Ago;" 3:30 p. m., Tuesday, Junior Auxiliary; five to eight p. m., sauer kraut supper to be served by men of parish; seven p. m., Thursday, library night; eight, choir rehearsal.

Hulmeville Methodist Church

Sunday, November 13th: 10 a. m., Church School; 11, morning worship; The fellowship of those who seek the spiritual reign of God in the affairs of men;" 7:30, evening song, and sermon, "The Unpardonable Sin—What Is It?"

Announcements: Monday, eight p. m., monthly meeting of Epworth League at home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Comly, South Langhorne; Tuesday, meeting of the Ladies Aid Society; Thursday, 6:45, Junior League; eight p. m., mid-week service; Thursday, Bucks County Men's Rally in Harriman Church, the Rev. Corson, Trenton, N. J., speaker.

Thursday, in Arch Street Church, Philadelphia, Pageant depicting 75th anniversary of the Work of the Board of Church Extension; November 18th, Young People's Rally in the Morrisville Church; Friday, November 19th, annual Church Supper will be served, 4:30 to eight p. m.

Union Church of Edgely

Sunday School, 9:45 a. m.; preaching service, 7:30 p. m.

Eddington Presbyterian Church

Sunday services: Sunday School, 9:45, elder Arthur G. Wilkinson, superintendent, in charge, "The Sacredness of Human Life" is the lesson, the Golden Texts, "Thou shalt not kill" (Exodus 20:13); "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer" (1 John 3:15); Divine worship at 11, and night service at eight, Miss Lillian Grupp and Miss Betty Scott will lead the discussion in the young people's meeting at seven.

Prayer meeting on Wednesday night at seven; further study in the Acts will be continued.

South Langhorne Lutheran Church

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, South Langhorne, the Rev. W. S. H. pastor: Sunday School, 10:30 a. m.; the service, 7:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. John Flannigan were

Catechetical instruction, Tuesday at four p. m.

HULMEVILLE

J. Yorty won high pinochle score of 707 at the card party of Neshaminy Lodge of Odd Fellows, Wednesday evening. Next highest were: Mrs. Charles Thorpe, Sr., 695; H. Millman, 671; J. Ashley, 660; M. Gonther, 658. Prizes consisted of five baskets of potatoes and other groceries. Refreshments of home-made cake and coffee were served.

A visit was paid yesterday by Mrs. Horace C. Cox to her sister, Mrs. Harry Boylan, Haddonfield, N. J.

Colored motion pictures will be shown by Cyrus E. Smith in Ewbank Hall of the Methodist Church, Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock. The public is invited. The Hulmeville-Middletown P. T. A. is sponsoring the affair, and there will be no charge for admission. Some of the pictures will show big game hunting scenes within two degrees of the Arctic Circle.

A hunting trip in the vicinity of Archdale is being participated in today and tomorrow by Harold Dasenbury.

EMILIE

Mrs. Lester Stackhouse was a recent guest for several days in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Shoemaker and Captain and Mrs. John Kidney left Friday by motor for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will remain for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fullback and family, Croydon, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Liszewski.

Mr. and Mrs. John Flannigan were

"Often a Bridesmaid" BY HAZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER XXV

"Margaret," her father cut in, "we know that you are Sue's friend and that you feel deeply for her, but it is every woman's lot—to—er—to forgive at some time, and surely you agree that a reconciliation is better than a broken home and a divorce. Kenneth did wrong—he admits it—and he's sorry. But he wants Sue to see that, whatever it was, it's over and as if it had never been. He loves his wife, he never loved this poor little girl."

Margaret was smiling again. But it was a crooked smile and her eyes were blazing. "Just a little hard on the other girl, don't you think?"

"Put," said her father.

"Oh, she's just a kid," Kenneth said. "She'll get over it." But for the first time his eyes lit.

Margaret thought of the time, five years ago, when she'd wept her heart out over him. She was just a kid, too. But it had hurt—and the hurt had left scars.

"That will be a great consolation to Sue, I'm sure," she said coldly.

"But Margaret—" Ken reached for her hands. "Margaret, don't you SEE? Whatever it was with her was nothing. It was only Sue I loved—always. It was because of that, and the way she acted—oh, if I could only make you SEE!"

"I'm afraid I don't see very well, I'm afraid I won't be able to make Sue see. A man with a wife and children having a cheap affair with a cheap little girl and then saying it's nothing, and it's only Sue you love—and she ought to forgive you. Oh, it's disgusting. If it were a love affair—a real love—if you CARED for someone else—"

Kenneth groaned. He took Margaret's hands again and this time she couldn't snatch them away.

"Believe me—you must believe me, Margaret! My whole life—my whole happiness—Sue's happiness—everything depends on it. I give you my sacred word of honor, Sue is the one love of my life. I never loved another woman. I never could—"

He never loved another woman. He was telling her that? This was too much. It had ceased being tragic. It was becoming funny. She must have made some sound, for he sensed what she was thinking. He said:

"Margaret, it's true. Oh, when I was a kid there were kid affairs. Even you and I for a little while—"

Mr. Wickham cleared his throat.

"Yes—you and I," Margaret said.

"There were other little infatuations, little puppy love episodes like that—of course—naturally—"

"Yes—but Sue, really. I must have loved her always because I was never indifferent to her. I thought I just about hated her for a while, and she thinks she hates me now. But it's love—it's real love, Margaret. And I can't lose her. She's got to come back to me. It's too big to fight. It's—"

"It's no use, Kenny. You'll have to do your own talking to Susan. I wish you luck. Good night!"

"Weren't you just a little hard on him, my dear?"

Margaret had a choking feeling back of her throat. She wanted to put her head on her father's shoulder and cry her heart out. She wanted to tell him what a failure she was, and how much she hated all the men in the world, especially Kenneth. But she couldn't do that, of course. And even if she did, he wouldn't understand. Nobody would understand.

When Sue and Mrs. Decker came into the shop on a warm September afternoon, she was far more poised, and more able to handle the situation than she would have been a month before.

Sue, she noticed at once, had put on weight. She was far from the under-nourished skeleton she'd been two months ago.

"Why, Sue! How well you look!" Margaret cried, with genuine pleasure.

"Oh, yes, she's getting to be herself again," Mrs. Decker said.

"And you look well yourself, Margaret," Sue said, critically. "New beau?"

"No—not the ghost of one. Just work!"

Sue shook a teasing finger. "Now, don't tell me that. I know you too well. Joe Atwell told me yesterday that you were never home, and he was getting tired of calling your number."

Margaret shrugged. "Can't help it. Busy."

"Then it agrees with you to be busy," Mrs. Decker said.

"And you look well yourself, Margaret," Sue said, critically. "New beau?"

"No—not the ghost of one. Just work!"

Sue shook a teasing finger. "Now, don't tell me that. I know you too well. Joe Atwell told me yesterday that you were never home, and he was getting tired of calling your number."

Margaret shrugged. "Can't help it. Busy."

"Then it agrees with you to be busy," Mrs. Decker said.

"And you look well yourself, Margaret," Sue said, critically. "New beau?"

"No—not the ghost of one. Just work!"

Sue shook a teasing finger. "Now, don't tell me that. I know you too well. Joe Atwell told me yesterday that you were never home, and he was getting tired of calling your number."

Margaret shrugged. "Can't help it. Busy."

"Then it agrees with you to be busy," Mrs. Decker said.

"And you look well yourself, Margaret," Sue said, critically. "New beau?"

"No—not the ghost of one. Just work!"

Sue shook a teasing finger. "Now, don't tell me that. I know you too well. Joe Atwell told me yesterday that you were never home, and he was getting tired of calling your number."

Margaret shrugged. "Can't help it. Busy."

"Then it agrees with you to be busy," Mrs. Decker said.

"And you look well yourself, Margaret," Sue said, critically. "New beau?"

"No—not the ghost of one. Just work!"

Sue shook a teasing finger. "Now, don't tell me that. I know you too well. Joe Atwell told me yesterday that you were never home, and he was getting tired of calling your number."

Margaret shrugged. "Can't help it. Busy."

"Then it agrees with you to be busy," Mrs. Decker said.

"And you look well yourself, Margaret," Sue said, critically. "New beau?"

"No—not the ghost of one. Just work!"

Sue shook a teasing finger. "Now, don't tell me that. I know you too well. Joe Atwell told me yesterday that you were never home, and he was getting tired of calling your number."

Margaret shrugged. "Can't help it. Busy."

"Then it agrees with you to be busy," Mrs. Decker said.

"And you look well yourself, Margaret," Sue said, critically. "New beau?"

"No—not the ghost of one. Just work!"

Sue shook a teasing finger. "Now, don't tell me that. I know you too well. Joe Atwell told me yesterday that you were never home, and he was getting tired of calling your number."

Margaret shrugged. "Can't help it. Busy."

"Then it agrees with you to be busy," Mrs. Decker said.

"And you look well yourself, Margaret," Sue said, critically. "New beau?"

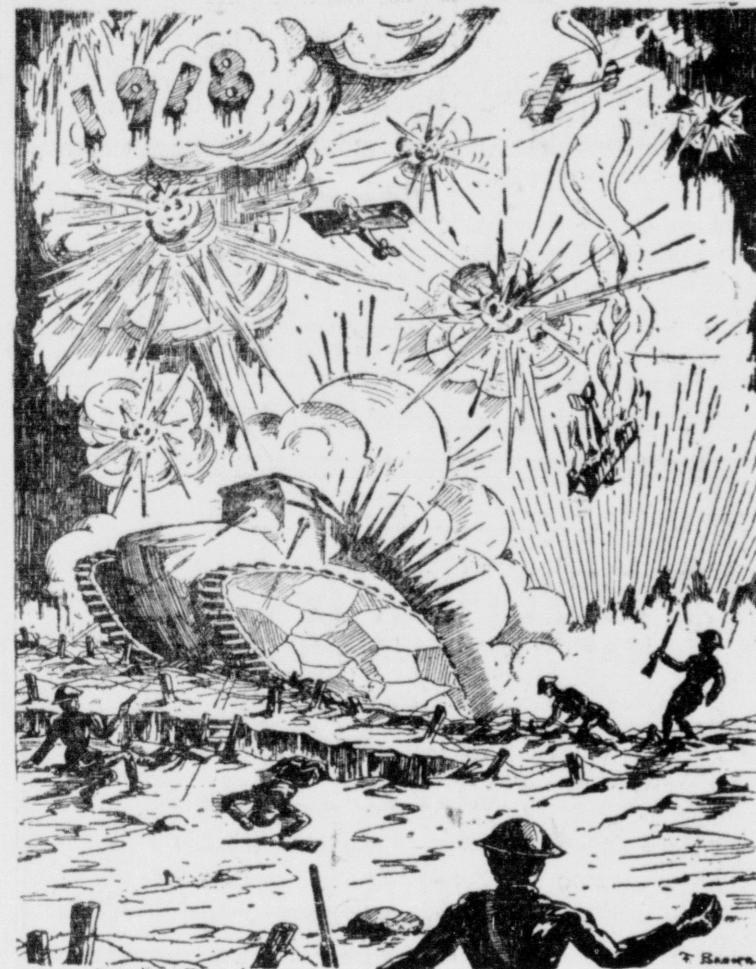

"No—not the ghost of one. Just work!"

Sue shook a teasing finger. "Now, don't tell me that. I know you too well. Joe Atwell told me yesterday that you were never home, and he was getting tired of calling your number."

Margaret shrugged. "Can't help it. Busy."

20th ARMISTICE DAY

Anniversary

COST OF U. S. WARS—Revolutionary War $175,000,000 . . . War of 1812 $165,840,000 . . . Mexican War $234,390,000 . . . Civil War (Union) $11,412,220,000 . . . Spanish American War $3,065,926,000 . . . World War $33,276,615,126 . . . Or all in all the staggering total of $48,329,991,126 . . . Think of what this sum would accomplish if spent for health and education in America instead of devastating war.

Remember how they performed during the World War? We say "Today they're even better!"—Customer statements prove they must be!

— D O D G E —
Passenger Cars and Trucks
Percy G. Ford
1776 Farragut Avenue, Bristol

Telephone 3117
J. S. Fine
bottler of
CELEBRATED SOFT DRINKS
Schmidt's Beer
Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer
214 Mill St. Bristol, Pa.

Norman's Stationery
416 Mill Street, Bristol, Pa.

Levinson's
United Cut Rate Drug
231 Mill Street, Bristol
106 Bellevue Ave, Langhorne

Francis J. Byers
AUTO INSURANCE
Best Protection — Low Cost
409 Radcliffe Street
Bristol Croydon

Charles Rathke
Elwood R. Dyer
dealer in
Pasteurized Milk and Cream
217 Washington St.

COMPLIMENTS
—of—
Palermo & Gilardi
205 Wood St. Bristol, Pa.
Telephone Bristol 2841
Not Responsible for Articles
Left Over 30 Days

Bristol 2423
Wolson's Hardware Store
Hardware—Mill Supplies
404-6 Mill St. Bristol, Pa.

The First Armistice Day To Be Observed As A National Legal Holiday

Twenty years ago the joyful news of the Armistice rang around the World. To most of us the time has passed quickly . . . It seems only yesterday that we proudly watched our returning heroes marching home. The cheers and tears of joy are still vividly with us. But what long, lonesome years they have been to those mourning Gold Star Mothers . . . What tortuous years have they been to those shell-shocked, blinded, maimed and crippled martyrs, many of whom are merely marking time to the relief that will be theirs when taps are finally sounded. What Price Glory, if they be denied on this, the Twentieth Armistice Anniversary, a dedication of Remembrance.

BRISTOL HONOR ROLL

Lest we forget their part in the Great War which ended twenty years ago, the following names are published

Angelillo, Giovanni
Bolton, James
Bracken, Robert W.
Delker, Russel T.
Flannigan, Thomas
Lisher, Robert
Marsh, Earl
McIlvain, Bernard

Nocito, John W.
Puccino, Richard
Roberts, George N.
Shultz, Paul
Stream, Charles
Tanzio, Pietro
Weik, Louis S.
Watkins, Eugene B.

THIS ARMISTICE DAY PAGE SPONSORED BY Robert W. Bracken Post No. 382 American Legion THE FOLLOWING BUSINESS FIRMS and CITIZENS PAY HONOR TO OUR DEPARTED COMRADES

Fabian's Quality Drug Store
Leonard Blanche
E. G. Ball
H. R. McGee
Edward T. Finegan, Druggist
Mrs. James Phillips
Doris Grille

Pal Mar Cut Rate
Yardley's Delicatessen
G. Asta & Sons, Groceries
Ye Olde Delaware House
S. Aita, Groceries
Singer Bros.

A. A. Tomesani
Dennis Brady
Ned Eginal
E. C. Barnfield, Groceries
Smith's Model Shop
J. W. Clark, Jeweler
Evan B. Vandegrift

WETHERILLS' FOR BUILDING MATERIALS

George Molden

Funeral Director

Bristol, Pa. Phones: 2117, 2169

Compliments
Factors-To-You

FURNITURE CO.

Furniture—Carpets—Bedding

225 Mill Street

Bell Phone 3116 Bristol, Pa.

COMPLIMENTS

—of—
Kanter's Dep't Store

400-02 MILL STREET

Bell Phone 2417
William I. Murphy Estate
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

316 Jefferson Ave. Bristol, Pa.

R. U. A. LEGIONAIRE?

R. U. A. AUXILIARE?

See "The Sons of the Legion"

AT THE

BRISTOL THEATRE

Nov. 18 and 19

BUCKS COUNTY'S FINEST FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY

TWENTY YEARS OF PEACE for America . . . may we have many more twenty-year periods of Peace. There is no tribute that can recompense our lost ones for what they have contributed. But we can manifest to them today that they are not forgotten. They died for Peace not War. We must keep the faith. We must dedicate to them our everlasting thought and energy to insure for their posterity the goal they sought and the sacrifice they made TWENTY years ago.

Spencers
Furniture

Marty Green

ARMY & NAVY STORE

Bristol Riverside Mt. Holly

F. E. Baylies
Jeweler

'blue coal'

Frank Wight Fuel Co. Inc.

Mill and Highway Phone 417

Hardy's Shoe Shop
ENNA-JETTICK
Shoes for Women

Dial 9818
"A Home Away From Home"

Keystone Hotel

AND RESTAURANT

Bristol Penna.

Under Management

Rufe & Townsend

Compliments of
John H. Wichser
Roofing and Sheet Metal Work

Phone 2156

Profy Radio Shop
G. E. PRODUCTS
211 Mill Street Bristol, Pa.
Phone 552

The Keystone Dairy Co.

Plant: 814-816 Pond Street

Bell Telephone 2824

Phone 2213
Frank Pfeifer
Pianos — Radios

Moffo's Shoe Shop

Orthopedic Shoes and Corrective

Repairs

311 Mill Street Phone 513

Phone Bristol 3600
Lorraine Cleaners & Dyers
Every Garment Given
Individual Attention
1709 Farragut Ave. Bristol, Pa.
H. Benneff, Prop.

Bristol Diner

Highway and Market Street

Bristol, Pa.

IF IT'S PHOTOGRAPHY—
Nichols
112 Wood St. Phone 2925
SEE OUR X-MAS SPECIAL

Abe Popkin's

S H O E S

418 Mill St. Bristol

ERECT HOUSE NEAR HERE IN TWO WORKING DAYS

Construction of Residence at Morrisville Causes Considerable Interest

MANY VISIT THE SCENE

NEWTOWN, Nov. 11.—Erecting a seven-room house to the roof, including the installation of rough plumbing, heating, and electrical work, in two days, was a feat accomplished for the first time in Bucks County recently, by the C G Constructing Co. of Morrisville, under the "Precision-Built" franchise of the A. W. & W. M. Watson Co. of Newtown and Morrisville. The house at Jefferson avenue, Highland Park, Morrisville, is not now being rushed, because the builders and Watson Co. want those interested to see the house construction.

The interest shown by the public in general to this revolutionary type of construction, from advertisements appearing in the Courier, have aroused many questions on the construction itself, and those connected with the building industry also want to know what effect it has on their work.

David L. Watson, president of the A. W. & W. M. Watson Co., in explaining the Precision-Built system to us stated that this old conservative company was not, by this system, changing the present position of the architects, builders, or other trades, but rather helping them in enabling them to produce a better house, more quickly, more economical to maintain, and more livable because of better construction and insulation.

"Basic economies expected from prefabrication," he said, "are provided in the Precision-Built type of construction, but in no sense is a Precision-Built home a stock house limited to one design but is built to the owner's requirements from plans by his architect or from a wide selection of plans by registered architects, conventional in appearance and strictly conforming to the type of architecture selected."

The Precision-Built house first begins to take shape in the mill. There the framing lumber, joist and rafters are cut and beveled accurately so that every joint and stud will have full bearing and every cut is made with heavy duty accurate machines. Then the exterior walls and interior partitions are assembled in sections. These sections are assembled complete with insulation on both sides.

The excavation having been completed and foundations built, all materials for the basic structure of the house are delivered to the job and because of work already done the house is erected and enclosed by the end of the second day.

All erection work is done by any approved builder now in business in his community, all sub-contract work by local firms and local mechanics, of the specifications of the Precision-Built system, which structurally is approved by building inspectors of the F. H. A. and by well-known engineers and architects.

"If weather permits excavation and two days to erect the house, these houses can be built regardless of cold or inclement weather."

Mr. Watson pointed out the ease with which a prospective home owner can choose his architect, with the cooperation of Watson Co., or select plans by registered architects for houses, of any design, lay out definite specifications with them, and know that the completed house will be as specified. Compared with some houses which are built with inaccurate plans, no specifications, and in the competition of various builders and trades, if there are no definite specifications, the old system either costs the owner more than he expects or he does not get what he expected. "The Watson Co.," he said, "is with this system helping home builders secure what they want, namely, better construction, more quickly and for less money, and with less trouble for them, and at the same time co-operating with all local approved builders and mechanics." Mr. Watson stated that his company will be glad to assist home builders in arranging financing of new homes and recommends this being done through local banks and local building and loan associations.

STRUCK BY LIGHTING

DANBURY, Conn.—(INS)—Now you see it, now you don't—but you can feel it later. Zigmund Relocut can vouch for that. He received hospital treatment from the effects of a bolt of lightning which struck a piece of iron pipe he was holding in his hand. The shock felled him and paralyzed both his arms and legs. The pipe disappeared.

Needlework Guild Has Increase in Garments

Continued from Page One

travels through the West, who noted a thread of a brook, the Sacramento, as the train crossed and re-crossed it. During the night the train continued to the coast, and there the traveler round the Sacramento River, now grown to a large stream, was able to support the fleet of the nation. We never can tell how our little deeds of kindness will grow, and how much they will mean to those who benefit by them.

These new garments mean so much to the children who have to wear patched and tattered clothes. Some of them never had anything new to wear before. These garments help them to regain their self-respect, and we hear of many cases where with clothing that was not a hand-down, the boys and girls improved greatly in their studies. They are not so self-conscious when they know they are dressed as nicely as other children. They are then on an equal footing with their playmates.

"Then too they have a feeling of ownership. Some people never own anything, and it is such pride and joy to them to receive a garment that is new and that they can keep."

"Enthusiasm, vision and loyalty are the invisible forces that aid in our work. We have been told that 'A task without vision is drudgery; a vision without a task is a dream; but a task with a vision is the hope of the world.' Telling them of the great cathedrals here and in Europe Mrs. Palmer told of the vision of the workmen engaged in erecting such. 'As they worked they satisfied their inmost souls, and gave us things of beauty. They had enthusiasm and vision for their work.'

Mrs. Ancker, past president of the Guild, was called upon for remarks. She paid high tribute to the president, Mrs. Forster, and congratulated the members on their choice of leader. Mrs. Ancker gave an incentive to greater effort by telling of the great work and variety of endeavors of another Guild.

Two poems, fitting for the occasion, were read by Mrs. Forster, these being "My Creed" and "The Ways."

A bouquet of gold chrysanthemums on the officers' table, is to be presented to Mrs. Edgar Odyke, a former reorganized. The offering, it was stated, will be used toward purchase of a new sewing machine.

The number of garments displayed yesterday was an increase of 380 over the exhibit for 1937. The number this year was 3,745 and for last year, 3,365.

After hearing the minutes of the secretary, Mrs. Harry Pope, and the report of treasurer, Mrs. Griffith L. Williams, Mrs. Forster appointed Mrs. Richard T. Myers and Mrs. Ernest Lawrence as auditors.

Praise was given by the president to the sewing department, headed by Mrs. Fred Kring, in which many faithful members worked during the past year. Many of the workers sewed at home. It was announced.

The honor roll this year contained the names of the following, together with the number of garments gathered by each. Sewing department, 612; Mrs. Clifford L. Anderson, 429; Mrs. Griffith L. Williams, 306; Mrs. Henry E. Ancker, 234; Mrs. Fred Kring, 210; "Billy" Gratz, 175; Mrs. James Lefféris, 145; Miss Jennie Chambers, 110.

A plea was made by the president that the memorial table have a larger number of garments next year. She mentioned that any member can donate to this table garments in memory of a loved one. The demand for hosiery and undergarments was stressed.

Mrs. Ancker, past president of the Guild, was called upon for remarks. She paid high tribute to the president, Mrs. Forster, and congratulated the members on their choice of leader. Mrs. Ancker gave an incentive to greater effort by telling of the great work and variety of endeavors of another Guild.

Two poems, fitting for the occasion, were read by Mrs. Forster, these being "My Creed" and "The Ways."

A bouquet of gold chrysanthemums on the officers' table, is to be presented to Mrs. Edgar Odyke, a former member of the Guild.

THOUGHTS FOR ARMISTICE DAY

I sit alone, and in retrospect I envisage my sanguine Hopes of years gone by Of lasting Peace, And, for time, My heart and mind are troubled. But I know that so great a thing Comes, not without effort Of soul and mind and body, Of sacrifice of selfish interests. And of high endeavor for a Cause That comes from God. For He is Good—so Good, Must triumph! Then Peace For all! How worthy Is the Cause for which to work!

—MARY DOUGLASS DU HAMEL Nov. 10, 1938.

resident here, and active member of the Guild. The bouquet was arranged by Miss Eunice Williams. Card parties were planned for the organization's benefit, one to be held each month. Those who will serve as hostesses at their homes are: Mrs. Griffith L. Williams, Mrs. Henry E. Ancker, Mrs. Fred Kring, Mrs. Clifford L. Anderson, Mrs. Ernest Lawrence, Mrs. Earl McEuen, Mrs. Lewis J. Bevan, Mrs. Walter Pitzonka and Mrs. Paul V. Forster.

Home-made cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Archibald Morris, aided by several of the Guild members. The garments arranged yesterday were in great variety, including house-hold linens; underwear for girls and boys, as well as adults; slips, dresses, suits, blouses, trousers, coats, caps, hosiery, baby garments, etc.

"I work four hours a day," she said. "I have been writing in long hand ever since I could afford someone to type for me."

As the wife of John L. Buck, a poor missionary, Miss Buck based her first novel, "Winds of Heaven," on the lives of the people with whom she had rubbed shoulders for 35 years. The majority of her other books—a long line of best sellers—have been set in China.

York with her the ninth, her own daughter.

In her brief broadcast to Sweden, Miss Buck referred to "The Good Earth," and a later novel, "This Child's Heart."

She has just completed another, "The Patriot," to be published in February, and is working on another, "American Legend," for Good Housekeeping magazine. A short story, "The Old Demon," will appear soon in Cosmopolitan.

"I work four hours a day," she said. "I have been writing in long hand ever since I could afford someone to type for me."

As the wife of John L. Buck, a poor missionary, Miss Buck based her first novel, "Winds of Heaven," on the lives of the people with whom she had rubbed shoulders for 35 years. The majority of her other books—a long line of best sellers—have been set in China.

Pearl Buck Says

"I Don't Wait for Moods"

Continued from Page One

"Each work represents a growth in the author," she said.

Miss Buck said she will go to Stockholm to receive the embossed medal and $40,000 in cash from King Gustav, of Sweden, on December 10th.

In her home in Bucks County, Pa., near Doylestown, she had left her eight adopted children. She brought to New Constipated?

"For 3 years I had constipation, and get nothing, medicines, back pains, Adlerika helped right away. Now, I eat sausages, bananas, pie, anything I want. Never felt better." Mrs. Mabel Schott.

ADLERIKA

(Advertisement)

FRANK WIGHT FUEL CO., INC.

MILL ST. AND HIGHWAY

Phone Bristol 417

BRISTOL

TUNE IN ON "THE SHADOW" EVERY SUNDAY AT 4:30 P. M. STATION

WFIL AND 5:30 P. M. WOR

MAKE WARM FRIENDS WITH

SOLD AT LEADING DEPARTMENT STORES - NEIGHBORHOOD STORES

OPENING FUNERAL HOME HAROLD H. HAEFNER

Bristol Pike and Simons Avenue
CORNWELLS HEIGHTS

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 15TH

Modern Funeral Service — Complete Facilities
Representing You Personally and Promptly

Phone Cornwells 422

HOLIDAYS AHEAD! DISHES

To Make Your Holiday Dinner More Attractive
COMPLETE SERVICE FOR

EIGHT, 53 PIECES $6.85

SMALLER SETS ALSO

32 PIECES $1.98

Small Weekly Payments Assure

You of Your Set for the Holidays

GIFTS, SELECTED NOW, RESERVED WITH A
SMALL DEPOSIT—BALANCE IN WEEKLY
PAYMENTS

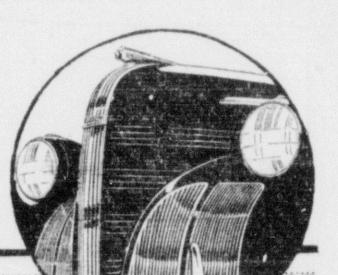

WOLSON'S HARDWARE STORE

404 MILL STREET

AMPLE FREE PARKING AT REAR OF MILL STREET

SEE THE 1939

PONTIACS

ALL THESE
plus
LOWER PRICES

Fandozzi Electrical Service
1816 FARRAGUT AVE. BRISTOL, PA.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

DR. SAMUEL KATZ
CHIROPODIST-FOOT SPECIALIST
Announces the Opening of An Office at 236 Mill Street

DR. M. ROMER SEIGEL
Dentist
Announces the Removal to His
NEW OFFICE
236 Mill Street (2nd Floor)
Over Western Union — 2 Doors
From Old Office

PHILA. EXPRESS
DAILY TRIPS
FARRUGGIO'S EXPRESS
901 Mansion St. Dial 2953
Philadelphia: 7 N. Front Street
Phone Market 3548

BRISTOL PAPER STOCK
Rags, Iron and Metal
ALL QUANTITIES
Highest Prices Paid
GEORGE MONUS
421 Otter St. Phone 420

DON'T FORGET THE FURNITURE SHOP

Refinishing
Upholstering
Draperies

When your furniture is old and shabby we can make it look like new at a very small cost.

21 years in this business enables us to give you the very best in workmanship

OUR WORK IS GUARANTEED

For free estimates without obligation

JUST PHONE 2910

THE FURNITURE SHOP

405 DORRANCE ST. BRISTOL, PA.

$1 or More Opens a Federally INSURED Savings Account

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK SYSTEM
SAFETY OF YOUR INVESTMENT
INSURED UP TO $5,000

A PROFITABLE investment, the safety of which is GUARANTEED by an instrumentality of the United States is offered you by the only Association in Bucks County to have an INSURED systematic plan of saving.

THE TREVOSE BUILDING & LOAN ASS'N
Street & Brownsville Roads, TREVOSE, Pa.

The Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation, created by the Congress of the United States, protects your savings in this Association up to $5,000.

49TH SERIES OPENS NOV. 17, 1938

MONEY TO LOAN ON GOOD FIRST MORTGAGES

Interesting pamphlets on Federal Insurance and copy of the 24th Annual Report of the Association can be obtained from:

ELWOOD B. MOYER, Secretary, Trevose, Pa., or any of the following Directors:

HARRY K. MARSHALL MILTON E. CROASDALE EDWARD J. PIERSON CHARLES M. WERNER
ALFRED J. SICKEL WILLIAM E. OSMOND L. WILSON L. WILSON L. WILSON
LINFORD RIDGE DAVISVILLE TREVSEY SEVERNS TREVSEY
CHARLES F. DOWORTH WILBERT MERRICK FEASTERVILLE WILLIAM A. YERKES
U. S. GRANT STERNER TREVSEY CHARLES R. ERVIN JENKINTOWN RUSSELL W. TOMLINSON
TREVSEY C. WILSON ROBERTS, Esq., Solicitor, Southampton SOMERTON

CLINTON M. SMITH, Conveyancer, Somerton

MEETING THIRD THURSDAY OF EACH MONTH

In a Personal Way

I INTERESTING bits of news mainly about people you know. A chronicle of the activities of the people of Bristol; their goings and comings.

Events for Tonight

Minstrel show by Eworth League in Bensalem M. E. Church social hall, 8 p.m. Refreshments. Card party in F. P. A. hall, by Bristol Council, No. 58, D. of A.

VISITS ARE ENJOYED

Miss Lola McLaughlin, 621 Beaver street, is spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boehringer, Newport.

SPEND TIME HERE

Mrs. Elmer Lowden and son Raymond, Burlington, N. J., spent Saturday visiting Mrs. M. Dugan, New Buckley street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burd and nephew Karl Townsend, West Brighton, S. I., spent Thursday visiting Mrs. Burd's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Townsend, Bath and Otter streets. Karl Townsend remained with his parents for this week.

Mrs. Arthur Hagerman, Jersey City, N. J., spent Wednesday visiting her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Poulette, Wilson avenue.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Eugene Downs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Downs, New Buckley street, has returned from Abington Hospital, where he was recently operated upon.

EVENING GATHERING

Mrs. Elwood Bilger, 213 Market street, entertained friends on Monday evening at her home. A social evening was enjoyed and refreshments served to Misses Edna Hopwood, Jean Chadwick, Dorothy Ziolkoski, Geraldine McGonigle, Wanda Daniel, Gabriela Keller, May Fink, Margaret Scavilla, Philadelphia. Mrs. Daniel and daughter Wanda and son Herbert, Frankford, were Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bilger.

ARRIVE IN TOWN

Mrs. William Cranston, Sr., who has been paying an extended visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Cranston, Jr., Trenton

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL

A large cast of screen favorites headed by such popular performers as Gail Patrick, Lloyd Nolan, J. Carroll Naish, Harry Carey and Porter Hall, and featuring a handsome newcomer, Robert Preston, will be seen in Paramount's thrilling "King of Alcatraz," which opens today at the Bristol Theatre.

Robert Florey, who directed "King of Alcatraz," has fashioned a fast-moving, gripping tale from the story of desperate criminals who crash Alcatraz, the world's strongest prison, and pirate a vessel on the high seas, in which they hope to escape to some small Central American republic.

The tremendous climax of the film is the scene showing an emergency operation being performed by Miss Patrick on the wounded Nolan, directed by radio by a doctor in another ship hundreds of miles away.

GRAND

Action and romance run a race with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy as the principal characters in "Too Hot to Handle," drama-packed story of the thrills of a newsreel cameraman and a famous aviatrix, now playing at the Grand Theatre. The two are teamed following their outstanding success in "Test Pilot."

Gable and his rivals scour the world for newsreel thrills. There is action in China where Gable stands amid bombs to film an aerial attack; Miss Loy as an aviatrix attempts a mercy flight that ends in a crash through Gable's efforts to gain a "scoop."

The Chinese "Big Apple," search for a lost aviator in South American wilds among savages (actually filmed in New Guinea on location), the filming of a blazing liner from the air; Gable at the camera, Miss Loy at the plane controls, are among the major thrills into which a dramatic love story is woven.

Jack Conway, who filmed the successful "A Yank at Oxford," directed with deft skill, balancing the romance and thrills in perfect timing. Many amazing feats of photography add to the picture's interest.

RADIO PATROL

dining room. An arbor formed of red, white and blue streamers attached to an electric star of the national colors was the setting for the banquet.

Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., was toastmaster and the speaker of the evening was L. R. Pennington, Administrative Assistant, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C. William Mack, post chaplain, invoked the blessing.

"Crime in the United States" was the topic of the speaker who hurriedly sketched the epoch of crime which swept over America. He told of the work of the FBI in tracking down the gangs of desperadoes and outlined the part the co-operation of the citizens had played in their capture.

"In 1932 a total of 606 national banks were robbed of four and a half million dollars." Since then there have been 570 convictions and those found guilty have been sentenced to serve a total of 7,500 years.

The Brady gang and the Dillinger gang were dwelt upon by the speaker. And to show the effectiveness of the work of the FBI the speaker stated that in 1937 the number of national banks robbed had dropped to 145. Since the passing of the Lindbergh kidnapping law, Mr. Pennington explained there had been 139 kidnappings and that 137 of them have been completely solved. He also stated that much of the information obtained by the FBI which aided in the solution of the McCall case in Florida had been given to the government authorities by the American Legion.

Mr. Pennington deplored the youthfulness of the average criminal in the United States and said that "the people at home can stop crime." Parents should pay more attention to their children, keep them off the streets and away from the breeding spots of crime and then and then only will we have a decrease of crime in this country."

Commander Rathke was called upon by the toastmaster and greeted the guests. Mr. Rathke thanked the committee which arranged the banquet and asked their co-operation during his term of office.

Mrs. Benjamin Lessig, president of the Auxiliary, on behalf of that organization presented the Post with a bell and gavel which was accepted by Commander Rathke.

Toastmaster Schmidt introduced the officers of the Post, the Auxiliary and invited guests. Dr. A. A. Mitten, commander of Oxley Post, Roxborough, responded in a humorous vein.

The "Billy Jones Review" of WCAU radio fame presented a diversified program of entertainment which was exceptionally pleasing.

Adjourning to the Post home the group gathered in the assembly room. The present and past commanders of the Post and the present and past presidents of the Auxiliary who were in attendance grouped in a semi-circle and the mortgage was passed from one to another as the term of office was announced. The names of the absentees were called and as the mortgage reached the end of the semi-circle it was handed to Miss Bracken to be burned.

Doron Green gave a brief historical sketch of the Post Home and also of Bracken Post.

Classified Advertising Department

Announcements

Deaths 1

LUTZ—At Bristol, Pa., November 19, 1938, Florence, wife of Harry Lutz. Relatives and friends are invited to the funeral services from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Caroline Klesh, rear of Bath street, near Otter. Monday, Nov. 14, at 2 p.m. Interment Bristol Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday evening.

Funeral Directors

UNDERTAKER—William L. Murphy, Estate, 316 Jefferson avenue, Bristol, Pa., phone 2417

Personals

WILL THE PERSON—Who accepted loan of umbrella on bus at Croydon, kindly return to Robbins' Drug Store or Mrs. Samuel Lewis, Bridgewater?

Strayed, Lost, Found

LOST—Female rabbit hound. Tan and white. Reward. Phone Section, Bustleton 8347.

FOUND—Spaniel, in vic. of Cornwells. Inquire 236 Wood St. Wednesday between 7 and 6 p.m.

LOST—Black suede pocketbook, gray trim, cont. glasses, etc. Rew. Ret. to 298 Mill St.

LOST—Female rabbit hound. Tan, black & white. Phone Bristol 7818.

Automotive

Automobiles for Sale

34 CHEV. COUPE—Master deluxe, excellent cond. Reasonable. Fugure 116 Wood street. Phone 2925

Garages

GARAGE SPACE—$3 per month. Apply Asta, 1940 Pond street.

Repairing—Service Stations

FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS—A special paint job for $16.50. 10 colors to choose from. Body & fender repairs. Wrecked cars rebuilt. We do special sheet metal shaping and hammering to your specifications. Auto Paint & Body Shop, Dorrance St. Phone 3054.

Business Service

Business Services Offered 18

RIDING HORSES—Instructions given. Special attire, ladies & children. Tip Williams, Fallington, Morris 8-7781.

Building and Contracting

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR—Geo. P. Bailey. Telephone Bristol 7125.

Heating, Plumbing, Roofing

OIL BURNERS—Hot water, steam, hot-air heat. Elec. hot water heaters. Harry C. Barth, Croydon, Bala 7575.

PLUMBING—Heating & spouting. Registered. Joseph A. Bonfig, 1st and Miller aves., Croydon, phone 2259.

TIN ROOFING—And spouting. Asbestos shingles and siding. James L. McGee Estate, call 2125.

Moving, Trucking, Storage

MOVING AND HAULING—Done very reasonable. Phone 3617.

Painting, Papering, Decorating

PAPERHANGING—Harry Morden, Jr., Bath Road, Bristol. Phone 2482.

Employment

Help Wanted—Female 32

GIRL—For child's nurse. Call after 5 p.m. at 1625 Garden street.

Situations Wanted—Female

WOMAN—Young, expert office worker desires temp. or perm. office or sales posit. Write Box 624, Courier.

Live Stock

Dogs, Cats, Other Pets 47

POMERANIANS—A.K.C. reg. Reason. Mrs. Kirk, phone Cornwells 387.

Merchandise

Articles for Sale 51

HOT WATER RADIATORS—Sinks, 2 show cases. Cheap for quick sale. Finegan's Drug Store, 1614 Farragut.

BUCKET-A-DAY STOVE—With oil burner in good cond. Apply 545 Linden street.

Fuel, Feed, Fertilizers

STOVE & NUT COAL—$7.00; pea, $6.50; buckwheat, $5.50. Mrs. Arthur Ludwig, 611 New Buckley St., ph. 2670.

LEGAL COAL—Stove & nut, $8 per ton; pea $6.75; buckwheat $5.75. M. Houser, Bath Rd., phone 2676.

Household Goods

DINING RM. SUITE—10 pieces, includ. table with glass top. Gallagher, New- port Rd. & Broadway, West Bristol.

Seeds, Plants, Flowers

DARWIN TULIP BULBS—Mixed. Fine selection. 50c per doz. $2.00 per 100. J. C. Schmidt, phone 2211.

Seeds at the Stores

SHORT STEAK—2½ lb. pork roll 25¢ lb., scrap 2½ lb. for 19¢; pork sauce 1½ lb. pork sausage 25¢ lb. plate & brisket 2 lbs for 25¢; beans 10¢; tongue 1 lb. John Smith, 113 Pond st.

Real Estate for Rent

Rooms with Board 67

ROOMS WITH BOARD—Apply at 215 Jefferson Avenue.

GRAND THEATRE LAST TIMES

THE KING AND QUEEN OF THE SCREEN

Clark GABLE Myrna LOY "TOO HOT TO HANDLE"

W.M.G. PICTURE

Cartoon 'DOG CATCHERS'; Latest MOVIETONE News

DON'T MISS THE JITTERBUG CONTEST ON THE STAGE SATURDAY NIGHT AT 8.45

STARTING SUNDAY: SPENCER TRACY AND MICKEY ROONEY IN "BOYS' TOWN"

Something Sensational in a SOLID MAPLE SUITE

Look at the Price!

$39.50

TOMORROW ONLY

If you want your bedroom to be cheery, furnished in today's most popular Colonial styling, by all means take full advantage of this solid maple suite. It's a record low price for a group of this superb design, but we offer it to you while our stock lasts. It's a very smart creation, including bed, chest and either vanity or dresser in authentic pegged construction and the price is only $39.50.

SPENCERS

FURNITURE
Mill and Radcliffe Streets

9x12

HOOK RUG PATTERN

$12.95

BAROUTH LIKELY TO TAKE THE FIELD AGAINST N. Y. U.

Bristol Boy May Be Chosen
For the Starting Backfield
Tomorrow

has been showing some fine form in practices all season. However, he hasn't been able to win a starting job, although he has been used in the substitute role quite often in many games on the Red Raiders' stiff schedule. The idea of using some of the newcomers to the team this year in the game tomorrow is to give them some experience for the 1939 campaign and thereby round out a respectable combination for next year.

BUCKINGHAM GIRLS

WIN HOCKEY CROWN

Former High School Player
Has Been Showing Fine
Work in Practice Games

Harry Barouth, Bristol High star gridiron for three seasons, may find himself in Andy Kerr's starting backfield which will take the field against the Violets of New York University when they clash at the Yankee Stadium in their final tilt of the current season tomorrow afternoon.

That was the word, at least, from Hamilton, New York, in a statement to the New York Times. Kerr is experimenting with a new set of backs in this, the final tilt of the season, and he has inserted Harry in one group along with Johnny Long, veteran, from South Orange, and Eddie Van Orden, Junior, from Long Island City. They worked behind the first string line in running their plays against the N. Y. U. defense and also were used to test the Violets' offensive attack. He also used Hal Lube, Willie Davis and Mike Caseria in the backfield later in the afternoon's workout.

Barouth is a sophomore at Colgate and will be chosen for the starting backfield.

YARDLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Derrick have as their guest, Mrs. Derrick's mother, Mrs. William Houser, Sunbury.

MONEY PLAYER

By Jack Sords

THRILLERS

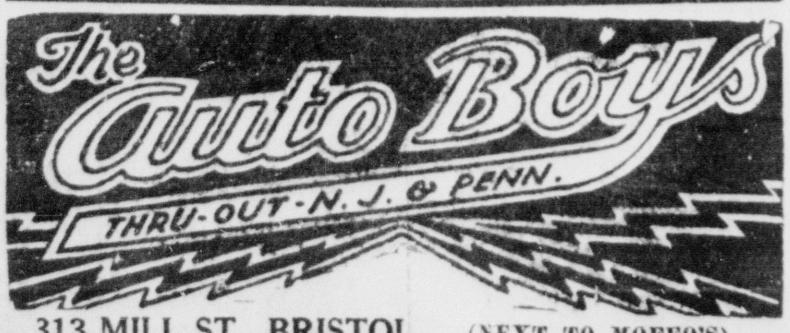

ARCTIC ALCOHOL

Gives your car 100% protection in cold weather. It lasts longer than ordinary alcohol. It is safe to use and will not damage the radiator.

IN YOUR OWN CONTAINER

33c
GALLON

WE INSTALL AUTO HEATERS FREE

313 MILL ST., BRISTOL

(NEXT TO MOFFO'S)

"LITTLE BROWN JUG" GAME TOPSCHOOL GRID BATTLES

Although not a conference game, the Bristol-Burlington prize-package tilt eclipses all other contests listed on the Lower Bucks grid schedule for this week-end. However, the Langhorne-Bensalem fray scheduled for this afternoon at Bensalem tops the two conference scrapes carded for after school today.

Due to the postponement of the Newtown-Fallsington game which was scheduled to go on the stage two weeks ago, the Lower Bucks grid card is filled to capacity this week with four tilts, two today—the conference games—and two on Saturday in non-league settos.

Originally Newtown and Fallsington were to have had off this week, but the postponed tilt was inserted for this afternoon which filled the bill for Lower Bucks schools. So for the second week in a row all the Lower Bucks schools will be in action today and tomorrow. And that also goes for next week and, of course, Thanksgiving week.

The conference schedule for this afternoon lists Fallsington to play at Newtown, and Langhorne at Bensalem. In the Saturday frays which do not affect the conference, Trenton Catholic journeys across the Delaware to battle Morrisville at Island Park field, while Bristol crosses the same Delaware, ten miles below Trenton's site of spanning the historic stream into New Jersey, to match wits with the strong Burlington club.

The conference schedule for this afternoon lists Fallsington to play at Newtown, and Langhorne at Bensalem. In the Saturday frays which do not affect the conference, Trenton Catholic journeys across the Delaware to battle Morrisville at Island Park field, while Bristol crosses the same Delaware, ten miles below Trenton's site of spanning the historic stream into New Jersey, to match wits with the strong Burlington club.

BENSALEM VARSITY WINS
OVER FACULTY, 4 TO 4

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 11—

It was a rollicky, frolicky bit of entertainment for the fans who witnessed the Bensalem varsity hockey team battle its faculty on the school field here yesterday afternoon. And for once the students won an argument with their superiors when they put them to rout in the contest, shutting them out to the merry tune of 4-0.

The Faculty, lacking enough players, secured a lease from Mr. Faust on Miss Gemmer of the office force, still in need of at least one more player, they borrowed coach George Reimer to fill in at center forward on the eleven. It was coach Reimer, who provided most of the outbursts from both the sidelines and players from both squads.

Roaming around like a chicken with a head the Owl grid coach found himself racing hither and thither from end to end and width to width of the field chasing the little cork pellet all over the premises. And when he had finished, it had availed him nothing for the teachers couldn't produce anything that even resembled a goal.

Often coach Reimer picked the ball out of a scrimmage deep in his own territory, then proceeded to dribble up the field through the entire varsity array to the delight of the fans by out-speeding his pursuers only to be stopped by the Owlets' fullbacks through whom he couldn't penetrate single-handed.

The way he was flying around the field, he had both teams weak from laughter which made it a simple matter for him to drive through the varsity outfit. His only difficulty was that he couldn't get the fullbacks to roll over when he came their way. Otherwise the result might have been vastly changed.

The faculty chuckled so much that they couldn't do anything about the varsity's smashing offensive attack and so all the students had to do was to hit the ball and it rolled into the net—at least that's what happened on five separate occasions during the game. However, one of the five was nullified, thereby leaving the varsity with a sum total of only four tallies.

Betty Bound sank a pair of counters, while Eleanor Hughes and Naomi Foster each counted one. It was Eleanor Hughes who sank the invalid goal when she shot from outside the striking circle. The varsity crew rolled in three counters in the opening half, and then became so played out, they could sink only one in the final twenty minutes of play.

BUCKINGHAM GIRLS

WIN HOCKEY CROWN

Although not a conference game, the Bristol-Burlington prize-package tilt eclipses all other contests listed on the Lower Bucks grid schedule for this week-end. However, the Langhorne-Bensalem fray scheduled for this afternoon at Bensalem tops the two conference scrapes carded for after school today.

Due to the postponement of the Newtown-Fallsington game which was scheduled to go on the stage two weeks ago, the Lower Bucks grid card is filled to capacity this week with four tilts, two today—the conference games—and two on Saturday in non-league settos.

Originally Newtown and Fallsington were to have had off this week, but the postponed tilt was inserted for this afternoon which filled the bill for Lower Bucks schools. So for the second week in a row all the Lower Bucks schools will be in action today and tomorrow. And that also goes for next week and, of course, Thanksgiving week.

The conference schedule for this afternoon lists Fallsington to play at Newtown, and Langhorne at Bensalem. In the Saturday frays which do not affect the conference, Trenton Catholic journeys across the Delaware to battle Morrisville at Island Park field, while Bristol crosses the same Delaware, ten miles below Trenton's site of spanning the historic stream into New Jersey, to match wits with the strong Burlington club.

The conference schedule for this afternoon lists Fallsington to play at Newtown, and Langhorne at Bensalem. In the Saturday frays which do not affect the conference, Trenton Catholic journeys across the Delaware to battle Morrisville at Island Park field, while Bristol crosses the same Delaware, ten miles below Trenton's site of spanning the historic stream into New Jersey, to match wits with the strong Burlington club.

BENSALEM VARSITY WINS
OVER FACULTY, 4 TO 4

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 11—

It was a rollicky, frolicky bit of entertainment for the fans who witnessed the Bensalem varsity hockey team battle its faculty on the school field here yesterday afternoon. And for once the students won an argument with their superiors when they put them to rout in the contest, shutting them out to the merry tune of 4-0.

The Faculty, lacking enough players, secured a lease from Mr. Faust on Miss Gemmer of the office force, still in need of at least one more player, they borrowed coach George Reimer to fill in at center forward on the eleven. It was coach Reimer, who provided most of the outbursts from both the sidelines and players from both squads.

Roaming around like a chicken with a head the Owl grid coach found himself racing hither and thither from end to end and width to width of the field chasing the little cork pellet all over the premises. And when he had finished, it had availed him nothing for the teachers couldn't produce anything that even resembled a goal.

Often coach Reimer picked the ball out of a scrimmage deep in his own territory, then proceeded to dribble up the field through the entire varsity array to the delight of the fans by out-speeding his pursuers only to be stopped by the Owlets' fullbacks through whom he couldn't penetrate single-handed.

The way he was flying around the field, he had both teams weak from laughter which made it a simple matter for him to drive through the varsity outfit. His only difficulty was that he couldn't get the fullbacks to roll over when he came their way. Otherwise the result might have been vastly changed.

The faculty chuckled so much that they couldn't do anything about the varsity's smashing offensive attack and so all the students had to do was to hit the ball and it rolled into the net—at least that's what happened on five separate occasions during the game. However, one of the five was nullified, thereby leaving the varsity with a sum total of only four tallies.

Betty Bound sank a pair of counters, while Eleanor Hughes and Naomi Foster each counted one. It was Eleanor Hughes who sank the invalid goal when she shot from outside the striking circle. The varsity crew rolled in three counters in the opening half, and then became so played out, they could sink only one in the final twenty minutes of play.

BUCKINGHAM GIRLS

WIN HOCKEY CROWN

Although not a conference game, the Bristol-Burlington prize-package tilt eclipses all other contests listed on the Lower Bucks grid schedule for this week-end. However, the Langhorne-Bensalem fray scheduled for this afternoon at Bensalem tops the two conference scrapes carded for after school today.

Due to the postponement of the Newtown-Fallsington game which was scheduled to go on the stage two weeks ago, the Lower Bucks grid card is filled to capacity this week with four tilts, two today—the conference games—and two on Saturday in non-league settos.

Originally Newtown and Fallsington were to have had off this week, but the postponed tilt was inserted for this afternoon which filled the bill for Lower Bucks schools. So for the second week in a row all the Lower Bucks schools will be in action today and tomorrow. And that also goes for next week and, of course, Thanksgiving week.

The conference schedule for this afternoon lists Fallsington to play at Newtown, and Langhorne at Bensalem. In the Saturday frays which do not affect the conference, Trenton Catholic journeys across the Delaware to battle Morrisville at Island Park field, while Bristol crosses the same Delaware, ten miles below Trenton's site of spanning the historic stream into New Jersey, to match wits with the strong Burlington club.

The conference schedule for this afternoon lists Fallsington to play at Newtown, and Langhorne at Bensalem. In the Saturday frays which do not affect the conference, Trenton Catholic journeys across the Delaware to battle Morrisville at Island Park field, while Bristol crosses the same Delaware, ten miles below Trenton's site of spanning the historic stream into New Jersey, to match wits with the strong Burlington club.

BENSALEM VARSITY WINS
OVER FACULTY, 4 TO 4

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 11—

It was a rollicky, frolicky bit of entertainment for the fans who witnessed the Bensalem varsity hockey team battle its faculty on the school field here yesterday afternoon. And for once the students won an argument with their superiors when they put them to rout in the contest, shutting them out to the merry tune of 4-0.

The Faculty, lacking enough players, secured a lease from Mr. Faust on Miss Gemmer of the office force, still in need of at least one more player, they borrowed coach George Reimer to fill in at center forward on the eleven. It was coach Reimer, who provided most of the outbursts from both the sidelines and players from both squads.

Roaming around like a chicken with a head the Owl grid coach found himself racing hither and thither from end to end and width to width of the field chasing the little cork pellet all over the premises. And when he had finished, it had availed him nothing for the teachers couldn't produce anything that even resembled a goal.

Often coach Reimer picked the ball out of a scrimmage deep in his own territory, then proceeded to dribble up the field through the entire varsity array to the delight of the fans by out-speeding his pursuers only to be stopped by the Owlets' fullbacks through whom he couldn't penetrate single-handed.

The way he was flying around the field, he had both teams weak from laughter which made it a simple matter for him to drive through the varsity outfit. His only difficulty was that he couldn't get the fullbacks to roll over when he came their way. Otherwise the result might have been vastly changed.

The faculty chuckled so much that they couldn't do anything about the varsity's smashing offensive attack and so all the students had to do was to hit the ball and it rolled into the net—at least that's what happened on five separate occasions during the game. However, one of the five was nullified, thereby leaving the varsity with a sum total of only four tallies.

Betty Bound sank a pair of counters, while Eleanor Hughes and Naomi Foster each counted one. It was Eleanor Hughes who sank the invalid goal when she shot from outside the striking circle. The varsity crew rolled in three counters in the opening half, and then became so played out, they could sink only one in the final twenty minutes of play.

BUCKINGHAM GIRLS

WIN HOCKEY CROWN

Although not a conference game, the Bristol-Burlington prize-package tilt eclipses all other contests listed on the Lower Bucks grid schedule for this week-end. However, the Langhorne-Bensalem fray scheduled for this afternoon at Bensalem tops the two conference scrapes carded for after school today.

Due to the postponement of the Newtown-Fallsington game which was scheduled to go on the stage two weeks ago, the Lower Bucks grid card is filled to capacity this week with four tilts, two today—the conference games—and two on Saturday in non-league settos.

Originally Newtown and Fallsington were to have had off this week, but the postponed tilt was inserted for this afternoon which filled the bill for Lower Bucks schools. So for the second week in a row all the Lower Bucks schools will be in action today and tomorrow. And that also goes for next week and, of course, Thanksgiving week.

The conference schedule for this afternoon lists Fallsington to play at Newtown, and Langhorne at Bensalem. In the Saturday frays which do not affect the conference, Trenton Catholic journeys across the Delaware to battle Morrisville at Island Park field, while Bristol crosses the same Delaware, ten miles below Trenton's site of spanning the historic stream into New Jersey, to match wits with the strong Burlington club.

The conference schedule for this afternoon lists Fallsington to play at Newtown, and Langhorne at Bensalem. In the Saturday frays which do not affect the conference, Trenton Catholic journeys across the Delaware to battle Morrisville at Island Park field, while Bristol crosses the same Delaware, ten miles below Trenton's site of spanning the historic stream into New Jersey, to match wits with the strong Burlington club.

BENSALEM VARSITY WINS
OVER FACULTY, 4 TO 4

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 11—

It was a rollicky, frolicky bit of entertainment for the fans who witnessed the Bensalem varsity hockey team battle its faculty on the school field here yesterday afternoon. And for once the students won an argument with their superiors when they put them to rout in the contest, shutting them out to the merry tune of 4-0.

The Faculty, lacking enough players, secured a lease from Mr. Faust on Miss Gemmer of the office force, still in need of at least one more player, they borrowed coach George Reimer to fill in at center forward on the eleven. It was coach Reimer, who provided most of the outbursts from both the sidelines and players from both squads.

Roaming around like a chicken with a head the Owl grid coach found himself racing hither and thither from end to end and width to width of the field chasing the little cork pellet all over the premises. And when he had finished, it had availed him nothing for the teachers couldn't produce anything that even resembled a goal.

Often coach Reimer picked the ball out of a scrimmage deep in his own territory, then proceeded to dribble up the field through the entire varsity array to the delight of the fans by out-speeding his pursuers only to be stopped by the Owlets' fullbacks through whom he couldn't penetrate single-handed.

The way he was flying around the field, he had both teams weak from laughter which made it a simple matter for him to drive through the varsity outfit. His only difficulty was that he couldn't get the fullbacks to roll over when he came their way. Otherwise the result might have been vastly changed.

The faculty chuckled so much that they couldn't do anything about the varsity's smashing offensive attack and so all the students had to do was to hit the ball and it rolled into the net—at least that's what happened on five separate occasions during the game. However, one of the five was nullified, thereby leaving the varsity with a sum total of only four tallies.

Betty Bound sank a pair of counters, while Eleanor Hughes and Naomi Foster each counted one. It was Eleanor Hughes who sank the invalid goal when she shot from outside the striking circle. The varsity crew rolled in three counters in the opening half, and then became so played out, they could sink only one in the final twenty minutes of play.

BUCKINGHAM GIRLS

WIN HOCKEY CROWN

Although not a conference game, the Bristol-Burlington prize-package tilt eclipses